Commit to be in DC starting 11/5

November 5, and the relentless outpouring of millions to drive this fascist regime from power only happens if we make it real. Every one of us here has a role to play—and it starts now.

Make + Share Your Plans to Be In DC

Commit to be in DC starting 11/5

- Clear Your Schedule
- Book travel & housing
- Commit to being there – Sign Up
- Share that you're coming

"I'm going to DC Nov 5. Join me."

Step one: Make your plans to be there. Clear your schedule. Take off work. Arrange childcare. Talk to your family now. Don't wait.

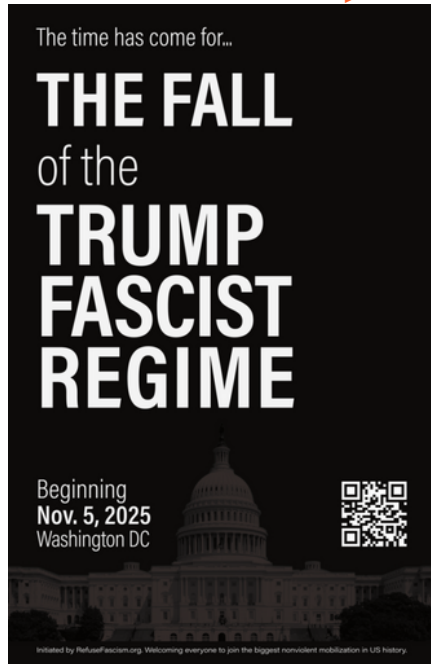

Book your ride, arrange that carpool, get your tickets, reach out to your friend in DC- can you stay there? Can they house others? grab a hostel bed. Book an airbnb. Commit. And right now, scan this QR code. Sign up. Do it while we're talking.

This isn't abstract—it starts with you making your plan to be there.

We will be having resources re: housing and transportation soon – but don't wait that carpool together, organize that bus, charter that plane. We will be reaching out to you if commit to get more involved and stay updated.

Once you've committed, share it. Post it. Text your group chat. Tell your cousin, your coworker, your classmates.

Spread it EVERYWHERE IRL

- From the window to the wall - visual saturation
- Campuses
- Where is the CROWD?!
- ALL OUT this Labor Day

By next week, people need to be buzzing: ‘Have you heard about November 5 in DC?’ ‘Have you heard about the people calling for the FALL of the Trump Regime?’

Plaster the walls. Posters in every dorm, every cafe, every community center. Flyers in every big crowd—not one to one at farmers markets but stacks at concerts, rallies, sports games, subway stations.

Strategize with your crew: Where can you saturate your area? What if every bulletin board, every lamp post, every campus corner shouted NOVEMBER 5?

Labor Day is our launchpad—be on a mission. Hit the protests, marches, parades, with this message.

Imagine people walking into class or work and saying: ‘I’ve seen this everywhere—what’s happening Nov 5?’

When people see November 5 everywhere—on every wall, every post, every bulletin board—it tells them this is real. It builds momentum and urgency. People start asking: What’s happening Nov 5? And that’s how we turn a date into a movement.

Visual saturation is how movements become undeniable. Every poster, every sticker, every flyer is a signal: we are serious, we are many, and we are coming. When the walls of a city or campus all say November 5, it creates buzz, it sparks conversations, and it gives people the courage to step in—because they can see with their own eyes that they won’t be standing alone

FUNDRAISING

This isn't just posting and hoping. We've got to talk to people.

Pick up the phone. Call everyone who's signed up. Make sure they know about flooding DC on Nov 5 and are organized right away in making their plans (booking their travel), telling their friends, getting materials to saturate and spread the word. And yes ask for donations. We need to reach millions and need big bucks to get millions to DC. Ask them what it's worth to drive this fascist regime from power, to dig deep and give as much as they can and to join you in asking others. This gives people a concrete way to support. You can say something like: . Say: 'I'm going to DC to drive out the Trump fascist regime. Will you donate so we can print 10,000 posters to get the word out in our city?'

History is going to be decided by whether we flood the streets and refuse to let a fascist regime tighten its grip on this country.

November 5 has to be the biggest nonviolent mobilization in U.S. history. It has to be the beginning of the end of this regime. Millions of people need to feel it in their bones that something historic is coming—that there is a real plan to drive Trump out of power. That only happens if everywhere they turn, they see it. Mobile billboards cutting through traffic. Movie-sized posters on city walls. Their social feeds lit up with one message: The Fall of the Trump Fascist Regime begins November 5 in DC.

That's what your donation does. It transforms this from an idea into an undeniable force. So don't sit this out. Give like the future depends on it—because it does. Scan that QR code, donate what you can stretch to give.

Organizing Tools & Resources

Show people resources, distribute them and make plans to get them out

Mass Defiance & Noncompliance

Starting NOW

- Resist every fascist escalation
- No more collaboration. No more capitulation.
- Institutions must stand up to illegitimate fascist extortion
- Disruption & risk < full-on fascism – courage is contagious
- Raise the demand: Trump Must Go NOW
- Build momentum → November 5: DC Launch

Mass defiance and noncompliance starting now

We need to resist every fascist escalation. Universities, law firms, health agencies, media outlets, national parks—every institution in society—must say clearly: no more collaboration, no more capitulation.

Instead of falling like dominoes, we must organize and insist that our institutions stand up to illegitimate fascist extortion. Yes, that may cause disruption or even personal risk, but that pales in comparison to the catastrophe of full-on fascism.

And remember—courage is contagious. As we do this, we must raise the demand: Trump Must Go NOW. Through every act of resistance, we are building momentum toward the historic launch in Washington, DC on November 5th.
